

This petition consists of a history lesson followed by a barrage of misinformation. Clearly the author feels strongly about morse code, but his reasoning borders on hyperbole. The morse code should be eliminated as a license testing requirement.